BASIC COUNTRY SURVEY OF THE USSR

22 April - 3 May 1963

Room 1D-27

0900-1630

This is a course designed for Agency employees whose work requires a comprehensive knowledge of the Soviet Union. It traces those factors of the Tsarist period which led to the Revolution and which influence the development of the Soviet Union. The major emphasis is on current conditions--including doctrine, Party and Government, the economy, the social system, the military--and to USSR foreign policy.

The course is conducted through lectures, discussions and films. The bulk of instruction is presented by the Staff of the SIC. Specialists from other components of the Agency also participate. For further information, call [REDACTED] extension 7371.
